

Just in New York

Ostalgia (below)

“Ostalgia” is a groundbreaking exhibit that brings together the work of more than 30 artists from 20 countries across Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Republics. On view from July 14-September 25 at the New Museum, 235 Bowery, tel. 1.212.219.1222, www.newmuseum.org

Via Quadronno (below)

Serving irresistible Italian cuisine with a New York flair, Via Quadronno makes scrumptious paninis, a to-die-for tiramisu and addictive cappuccinos. 25 E. 73rd St., tel. 1.212.650.9880, viaquadronno.com

More Than That (below)

Kevin Jerome Everson works in film, painting, sculpture and photography. This exhibition focuses on his filmic fables, which depict details in the lives of working-class people. On view until September 18 at the Whitney Museum of American Art, 945 Madison Ave., tel. 1.212.570.3600, whitney.org

Lady M (left)

The Upper East Side’s fabulous cake boutique Lady M is a must for all sweet lovers. The place is particularly famous for its Mille Crêpes: 20 paper thin, handmade crêpes layered with light, creamy custard. 41 E. 78th St., tel. 1.212.452.2222, www.ladymconfections.com

Lee Ufan: Marking Infinity (below)

This retrospective, featuring over 90 works, is devoted to the artist-philosopher Lee Ufan. A preeminent sculptor, painter and writer, Ufan has been active in Korea, Japan and Europe over the last 40 years. On view from June 24-September 28 at the Guggenheim Museum, 1071 Fifth Ave., tel. 1.212.423.3500, www.guggenheim.org

Union Jack trunk (below)

Kelly Hoppen and Halo Licensing recently launched a special edition trunk with the Union Jack flag-inspired design on the front. Available at Lillian August, 11 W. 19th St., tel. 1.212.206.1883, www.haloasia.com

Griffin Court (left)

Luxury condo development Griffin Court offers 95 lavish homes priced from $624,000 to $3,860,000. Finishes include mahogany-stained oak floors and doors, and custom Skyline windows that allow for great views and light. 454 W. 54th St., tel. 1.212.732.0372, www.griffincourtcondo.com

Joel Grey: A New York Life (right)

This one-of-a-kind exhibit explores the artistic relationship between award-winning actor Joel Grey and New York. His personal artifacts and his photos of the city are on display. On view until August 14 at the Museum of the City of New York, 1220 Fifth Ave., tel. 1.212.534.1672, www.mcny.org

Alexander Wang (left)

Alexander Wang just unveiled his first flagship store in Soho. The sprawling, glam space holds men’s and women’s clothing and accessories as well as the lower-priced T by Alexander Wang line. 103 Grand St., tel. 1.212.977.9683, www.alexanderwang.com

Bottega Veneta (left)

New York provided the setting for Bottega Veneta’s atmospheric short film, “Viaggio Notturmo.” The flick follows a man and a woman as they settle in a luxury suite, all the while zoning in on Bottega Veneta’s luggage and other travel accessories. View the film at www.bottegabeneta.com

Lido (above)

Harlem’s newest Italian eatery opened last February. Owner Susannah Koteen serves delectable dinner options like ricotta ravioli with asparagus and pine nuts, grilled sea scallops with lentils and braised short ribs. 2168 Frederick Douglass Blvd., tel. 1.646.490.8575, lidoharlem.com

Bar Pleiades (below)

Manhattan’s glamour has found its zenith at Bar Pleiades, set inside the Surrey Hotel. Designer Laurent Rottet drew his inspiration from Coco Chanel: the bar is framed by a black lacquered wood box, with a white lacquer inlay, in a stylish nod to Chanel’s famed makeup compacts. The Surrey, 20 E. 76th St., tel. 1.212.288.3700, www.thesurrey.com

©Bottega Veneta, Hermann Glockner, Joel Grey, Griffin Court, Kevin Jerome Everson, Halo, Lady M, Lido, The Surrey, Lee Ufan, Via Quadronno, Alexander Wang